The State Library serves as a regional federal documents depository, maintains an authoritative collection of historic and contemporary Illinois documents, and houses more than 185,000 maps.

Things of Interest to the Public

The Illinois Authors Browsing Collection - The State Library collects various books by authors across the state. These books can be checked out by anyone with an ISL library card or can be requested through Interlibrary Loan.

Authors Room – our collection of first editions many of which are signed. Some highlights are the first edition set of Wizard of Oz by Baum, Audacity of Hope by Obama, and many more. These books are for display only.

Illinois Read/Read for a Lifetime Collection

Illinois Reads – Each year 30 books are picked out to represent a wide range of Illinois Authors who write in various age groups. These books are celebrated in school and public libraries throughout the year

Read for a Lifetime – Each year 25 books are chosen with special attention to High school students. High school students participating in the program by reading 4 books a year from this list, are eligible for special recognition from the Secretary of State.

Banned Book Collection – Illinois is an anti-book banning state. The Secretary of State lived up to that by passing the first of its kind antibook banning law (PA 103-0100). The State Library maintains a collection of “banned” books so that all in the state may have access to these titles that have been removed from schools and libraries in neighboring states.

Statewide Databases – The Secretary of State and the State Library believe that all the people of Illinois have the need of reliable information. We are making that information available through our statewide database initiative. Anyone who lives in or is traveling through Illinois will have access to a suite of resources available one line though your computer or mobile device.

Any adult holding a public library card can get a card at the Illinois State Library.
